Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-7 and 16-21 in the reply filed on December 13, 2006 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the groups could be searched without undue burden. This is not found persuasive because the inventions are distinct the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7 and 12-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Whalon et al (US 5842215).

Whalon et al disclose a composition comprising wax, limonene, and a monohydric alcohol (see entire document, for Example claim 4). Whalon et al disclose the use of the composition with food products to repel insects (see column 4, line 60 to column 5, line 6). Whalon et al also disclose that greater than 0.3% of limonene may be used with possible odor emission (see column 6, lines 7-18).

The claims differ as to the specific recitation of preservative.

Whalon et al teach the composition as an insect repellant for food, wherein the repellant of insects inherently and/or obviously results in preservation.
